

A Few Tips

Email First - Emailing ahead of time is a great way to make that first connection. It helps reduce the surprise of someone showing up on their door out of the blue. See email templates below.

At the Door - When you arrive at the door, make sure that you have your My Free Bible Study name tag. This gives them something visual to help make the connection between you and their online submission.

Knock at the door once, maybe twice. If they do not answer then leave a "Sorry We Missed You!" Card and put down a time that you will be in the area again. This will help prepare them for your return.

If they do answer, make sure to honor their time. They may be expecting the studies, but they may have not expected you at that moment, or they may not remember (or claim to not remember) filling out the form. Say something like, "I'm sorry for the interruption, I hope I caught you at an ok time. You recently requested a free Bible study online (the name tag is good for a visual reminder here) and I'm part of the team delivering those studies around town. Do you have a minute?"

Initial Email to Lead

Hi _____,

My name is _____ and I am a local My Free Bible Study volunteer. You recently submitted a request on Facebook for a free study, and I would love to drop it off at the address you provided this week on (date) around (time frame).

If that does not work for you, please let me know and we can work something else out!

Thank you!

Initial Email to Lead - If they have a P.O. Box

Hi _____,

My name is _____ and I am a local My Free Bible Study volunteer. You recently submitted a request on Facebook for a free study, and I would love to drop it off for you on (date) around (time frame).

On your form I did notice that you provided a P.O. Box but not a physical address. Will you please reply back with that so I know where I can hand this off to you?

If that does not work for you, please let me know and we can work something else out!

Thank you!
